Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 1-20, 33 and 34 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 5.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

4. Claims 21, 22, 23 and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Edwards in view of Elder (4,730,370) and Nishibori.

5. Edwards discloses a casket lid that is molded using cellulosic material (wood pulp, rice straw, paper pulp) in an appropriately shaped mold. Elder shows a casket lid having a crown, pie, rim and header. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use the method of Edwards to form a casket with a pie, crown, rim and header because this is a conventional shape for casket lids as evidenced by Elder. Nishibori is directed to molding cellulosic material into any shape. The product may have a wood grain. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to form a wood grain on the casket of Edwards because Edwards indicates that artistic beauty can be had by forming the molds to give the desired result (column 2, first paragraph) and Nishibori shows that molds can be shaped to provide wood grain.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 22-32 are allowed.

Response to Amendment

7. Applicant's arguments filed March 12, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants contend that the combination of references does not yield the invention claimed. However, it is not pointed out what feature is missing. Applicant also question the motivation to combine the references indicating that it is based on speculation and assumptions. Motivation does not need to come from the references themselves but can come from the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See MPEP 706.02(j). Part of the Examiners function is to determine knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. Elder and Edwards are both directed to caskets. Edwards and Nishibori disclose molding. One of ordinary skill in the art of molding caskets would be knowledgeable of both caskets and molding and would consider it obvious to combine features of the references.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
